VFW Reception Was Successful

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Ladies' Auxiliary's all-day affair at the Andover Country Club last Saturday was enjoyed by over three hundred V.F.W. members and their friends.

The district president's conference, held in the morning under the leadership of the conference chairman, Mrs. Celia McGinn of Worcester, past department president, was well attended.

A delicious smorgasbord luncheon, served at noon to the Council of Administration members and the past department presidents, proved to be one of the highlights of the day. The following were seated at the head table: past national president, Mrs. Joseph Hanken of Haver; past department presidents, Mrs. Irene Hurley of Lynn and Mrs. Mary McEvoy of California; Department officers, president, Mrs. Herbert Folley of Essex st., senior vice president, Mrs. Alex Buda of Brookfield; junior (Continued on Page Nine)

Serio Made His Own Gondola

Frank Serio of Lowell Junction had his Gondola at Pomp's Pond Tuesday and from noon to 7:30 p.m., taking the children out on the pond for a ride.

This boat was built by Mr. Serio from a picture he saw on TV. He had some help from Mrs. John Wilson of the Memorial Library in Andover, from pictures she helped him look up. It is 15 feet long and 2½ feet wide and took him about six months to complete. It is hand paddled and with Mr. Serio paddling it will hold four or five children at a time. Zygmund Kupis of Lowell Junction did all the painting and decorating of the boat. It has a canopy top with a fringe on it, very similar to the Gondolas of Venice.

Emergency Polio Drive Scheduled; Funds Needed For Local Residents

An emergency mail campaign will be conducted here, and throughout Essex County, during the middle two weeks of August, so that polio patients may continue to receive substantial financial assistance from the local Chapter of the National Foundation.

Announcement of the campaign was made this week to the Townsman by Evelyn Harrison, corresponding secretary of the Foundation.

She pointed out that Andover has perhaps more at stake in the emergency appeal than have most communities, because of the amounts of money needed here to help badly crippled polio patients.

Assuming none of the local persons afflicted with polio have to be hospitalized, she said at least $4,000 is needed in Andover for the balance of the year.

And county-wide, she indicated that there is a $26,000 debt, which has occurred because the Foundation has continued to pay bills for polio patients after actual cash reserves have been depleted.

"The worst case in Essex County", she explained, "is an Andover resident". She identified him as Bruce Dodd of Argyle st., who is almost completely paralyzed. The foundation, she said, has spent over $25,000 for his care since the epidemic of 1955.

The Essex County Chapter will spend at least $1,500 for services relating to his care between September and the year's end, Mrs. Harrison continued. She said a nurse-housekeeper has been maintained at the Dodd residence, allowing Mrs. Dodd to continue in the real estate business.

There will be no discontinuation of this service before the emergency appeal is completed, she asserted.

Mrs. Harrison explained that housekeeping services are paid by the Chapter because, whenever possible, it is preferable for the physically-able adults to have gainful employment, rather than remaining home and accepting complete support from local or state agencies.

Andover Cases

Of Andover's 27 polio cases, 12 are currently receiving regular assistance from the Chapter, she pointed out.

The help comes in the form of housekeeping services, payment for physiotherapy, money for special shoes, braces, and payment for hospital care when needed.

The other 15 receive occasional assistance, whenever the cost of some needed item or service is beyond the individual's means.

Mail Campaign

Letters will be delivered to county residents Aug. 10, and all of them will contain envelopes to facilitate the return of donations.

ROUTE 93 ACCIDENT — The first serious accident on Route 93 in West Andover occurred Tuesday afternoon, when this oil truck tipped over in the dividing strip. Driver Bill Wooles crawled out with only a cut arm. The truck flipped and landed with all four wheels in the air. Some 900 gallons of diesel fuel and kerosene spilled. The vehicle was hauling fuel to construction trucks along the highway. The fire department stood by for over five hours, in case the spilled fuel ignited. (Staff Photo)

Family Heads For Europe

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Allis and children, Abigail and Sam, left Wednesday for a year's residence in Europe.

Mr. Allis, a member of the faculty at Phillips Academy, is on a sabbatical leave from the Academy.

He said the family will live in Switzerland for much of the year, where the children will attend school. However, many trips to various points of interest in Europe are scheduled.

The family took the ship Ryndam, of the Holland American Line, this week from New York. They (Continued on Page Three)

Many Projects At Town's Schools

The George W. Horne Co. has been awarded a contract for insulating portions of the Central School roof, on a bid of $4,000.

Supt. Edward I. Erickson reported that experts claim condensation has caused a condition that first appeared to be many small leaks in the roof. Examination showed the roof to be whole, however.

Many other projects are contemplated for the off-season, according to the school superintendent.

Painting contracts have been awarded to Arthur Newman of Argilla rd., the low bidder on all the painting projects designated by the superintendent of schools. His bid was $3,123, which included two coats on the auditorium of Shawsheen school.

Areas to be painted include two ceilings at the Jackson school, areas of the Shawsheen school, including the auditorium, corridors in the junior high school and the auditorium of the Central elementary school.

Other bids received for painting included: Charles J. Lundergan, Andover, $5,004.43; Arthur J. Roberts Co., Inc., Methuen, $5,175; Loris Stephanie, Andover, $4,105 and Dudley V. Carr Co., Melrose, $4,495.

There were no bids received for improvements to the fire alarm system. The school department will continue to seek bids, in order to provide more adequate fire detection and warning systems in the schools. The improvements were part of the recommendations made by Fire Chief Henry L. Hilton following a survey some months ago.

The work includes the joining of a fire detection system through the Jackson, Stowe and Central elementary schools and conversion of the junior high school to a single alarm system. There are two systems in the junior high at the present, one installed in the old Punchard wing and another in the junior high area.

There are a number of other projects to be carried out in the schools during the summer vacation or in the early fall. These were reviewed by Superintendent Erickson Tuesday night.

Three wall ventilators will be installed at the Central School, which is also to care for the condensation problem. Other work includes replacing corroded water pipes at the junior high school, installation of a vent at the West School gymnasium - cafeteria, place a second burner and incinerator in the Shawsheen School, caulk and tighten windows at the Shawsheen School auditorium, install cubicles and shelves at the Shawsheen kindergarten, convert library to classroom at West School, tile floor of principal's office, junior high, work on boilers in all schools following annual inspection which began today.

Desks will also be sanded and refinished in various classrooms of all schools, miscellaneous painting and minor repairs made by members of the custodial staff in all the schools.

ALLIS FAMILY ON WAY TO EUROPE

will dock in La Havre, France and spend some time in Paris before heading for Switzerland. Travel on the Continent will be made more pleasant, Mr. Allis indicated, by the purchase of a car after arrival there.

The Allis youngsters won't be the only ones engaged in serious pursuits.

Mr. Allis said he has undertaken to do research on Charles Francis Adams, who was an American delegate to the Geneva Conference following the Civil War. The research is being done for Lyman Butterfield, who is preparing the Adams Papers.

Mr. Allis said the Conference established an amount of money owed to the United States by England, in payment for damages done by the Confederate ship
Alabama, which was built in England during the war. His research will include the various phases of Mr. Adams' activities in Switzerland.

After spending the next 12 months in Europe, Mr. Allis said the plan calls for a return to this country next July.

Will Establish Building Rules

Standardized specifications, covering requirements for water
mains, drainage and sewerage, will be soon established by the town manager.

Thomas Duff said this week that copies of the specifications will be available for all developers, as soon as they have been prepared and approved by the Planning Board and Selectmen.

Duff explained that the various requirements need to be standardized, now that the town is growing rapidly. He said requirements have varied somewhat, depending on individual circumstances, in the past.

Pennies can make you a man of the world

8 hours a day, let's face it, most men live in a pretty narrow groove. You're a banker, a bus driver or a barber. Your life is walled in by your work.

But when you settle back with a Boston Globe in your hand, horizons broaden. You're a man of many worlds, free to explore other pastures and pastimes at your will.

Quick as you can say "Fenway Park," out pops the pull-out sports section with up-to-the-inning news. Stock closings are complete from Abbott to Zenith. You'll find gift ideas for your wife's birthday, and see what's doing in Dogpatch.

Anything decent on TV tonight? Anyone selling a skiff cheap? How about that Gromyko! You know, because The Globe prints the news as fast as it's made.

Tomorrow — morning or evening — spend the pennies that can make you a man of the world. Keep in touch with The Globe.

DIXON B. PENICK

Dixon B. Penick, 8 Stratford rd., a member of the technical staff of Bell Telephone Laboratories in North Andover, observed his 35th anniversary of service with the Bell System July 14.

For many years he specialized in electron tube development, including studies of tubes to cope with special problems. He has been concerned with development of various kinds of carrier circuits up to the present.

A native of Austin, Texas, Mr. Penick attended the University of Texas where he received the degree of bachelor of science in electrical engineering in 1923 and the bachelor of arts degree a year later. He also attended Columbia University while a member of Bell Laboratories and received the M. A. degree in 1927.

The author of several technical articles, Mr. Penick is a member of the Institute of Radio Engineers and Tau Beta Pi, honorary professional fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. Penick moved to Andover four years ago from Chatham, N. J., where they had been residents. They have three children, Patricia of New York City, Theodore of East Orange, N. J., and Elizabeth, at home.

VINYL SATTONA

INTERIOR FLAT FINISH

ON ANY SURFACE

Sattona-Vinyl may be used over practically any interior surface except bare steel. It is ideal for use over plaster, plaster board, wall board, dry wall construction, old painted surfaces, wall-papers which have no "bleeding" colors, brick or concrete.

When using Sattona-Vinyl over steel or wood, first apply a coat of good grade oil base primer or Enamel Undercoat. Sattona-Vinyl adheres well to clean galvanized metal.

NO PRIMER NEEDED

On most surfaces, one coat of Sattona-Vinyl is sufficient — will give you a beautiful smooth, velvety flat finish with uniform color. Sattona-Vinyl will cover approximately 450 square feet per gallon for one coat work. If two coats are required, the second coat may be applied after allowing the first coat to dry for about 2 hours.

EASY TO APPLY

Anyone can apply Sattona-Vinyl by brush, spray or roller. When applying go slowly — flow the Sattona-Vinyl on smoothly — work from unpainted into wet areas — don't work it in streaks and brush marks that may appear in the early drying stages will disappear quickly as the paint dries — usually in 15-30 minutes. Skips may be touched up and not be noticeable when dry.

DRIES QUICKLY

Sattona-Vinyl will dry in less than one hour. Drapes, rugs and furniture may be replaced the same day.

Sattona-Vinyl has no lasting "painty odor". Because Sattona dries rapidly, spatters should be wiped up at once. If allowed to dry, they may be difficult to remove. Use warm soapy water.

WON'T CHIP

Sattona-Vinyl leaves a strong elastic film that resists chipping, cracking or rubbing off. The ideal finish for homes with children, as Sattona-Vinyl resists their marring or scuffing during play.

WASHABLE

Sattona-Vinyl has a tough, durable finish that is easy to wash. Ink, grease stains, wax and dirt are quickly removed with modern cleansers.

APPLICATION HINTS

The surface should be clean — remove all water soluble dirt. High gloss, painted or varnished areas should be dulled with steel wool or sand paper. A specially prepared liquid "DULL-DOWN" may be used. Calcimine coatings should be washed off.

Stir Sattona-Vinyl slowly and gently. Wash all tools, brushes, etc. immediately after using with soap and warm water.

For spraying, thin Sattona-Vinyl with about one pint of water per gallon, also for roller application on rough, porous and uneven surfaces like masonry blocks or dry wall surfaces.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Susie Is So Right

Our good friend Susie, whose sonnets appear in an adjoining column, tapped the nail right on the head last week when she suggested changing the name Commonwealth to Common Debt.

For that's where the state is headed.

The complex nature of state bookkeeping makes it difficult for most men and women to thoroughly understand the financial picture.

The state has many pockets — and bookkeeping entries can be handled in such a way that any normal person would be thoroughly confused. We're not even certain that many of our legislators know what's happening, and they're the ones whom we depend on to safeguard our interests.

If the financial affairs of the state could only be accounted for in a straight forward way — simple income and expense entries that would show at a glance where we stand, most men and women probably would take more active interest in them. As it is now, legal slight of hand plays tricks on most of us, so that we can no more understand the exact meaning of budgetary statements than can a five-year-old.

All we can be certain of is that the state has been spending far more than it takes in, for a period of time in excess of all reason. This practice can lead only to an increased debt — and we all understand the meaning of that.

It is to be hoped that the Senate, with the eventual concurrence of the House, will appropriate only enough money to operate essential services; and that this amount will not be more than the actual income. It's time to be frugal, not spendthrift.

Abrupt Landscape Changes

Anyone who has watched the huge earth movers change the landscape can not help but marvel at the speed with which the machines scoop up earth and put it down somewhere else.

The giant maws take a bite the equivalent of some 20 yards — more than twice the amount carried in the large gravel trucks — and then put it down in some other location. Not only is there a time saving in carrying larger loads — there also is a tremendous saving in the all-in-one operation.

All this comes to mind because someone, the other day, asked about a house that once stood where a road is now laid out. And it was extremely difficult to find and describe sufficiently familiar landmarks to identify the former site.

If a person went away for two or three years, then returned to see the new highways, it would be difficult to accurately recall how the old scene looked, so great is the physical change. This may not be unexpected, but when landscape is altered so rapidly by ultra-modern machinery, one can't help but rub his eyes and wonder if this possibly can be real. At least in the old days, the work took long enough for any observer to get used to the changes gradually.

And along with the personal feelings involved in so sudden a change, we should also consider the abrupt alteration that takes place for a municipality. For suddenly a town is divided; small areas are cut off from communities; residential sections open up quickly, affecting public safety and transportation. In short, the changes are so abrupt, for individuals and whole communities, that there will of necessity be a period of transition.

We assume that Andover, like many other towns, will find the change startling, even somewhat annoying in terms of new services, new buildings, additional expenses.

But the changes must come, and the period of transition must be endured as peacefully as possible. Andover will be going through this period for the next few years, and we trust it will be a smooth road, unhampered by petty matters.

The preacher next Sunday at the South Church will be the Rev. George Frost, a new resident of the town.

Monte W. Whitcomb has moved into the house he recently purchased on Central st.

William McDermitt and family of Brechin ter. went deep sea fishing at Beverly last Thursday.

25 Years Ago — July, 1934

The town fathers sounded the riot signal on the fire alarm last Monday afternoon to see what would happen. Plenty happened, after the box for the Shawsheen Mill was sounded once, followed by the riot call. All call firemen responded, as did most special and regular policemen — all with considerable confusion as to the source of trouble.

There have been two attempted house breaks in town during the past week.

The town has been granted $5,000 to continue its ERA work during August. There are 110 men on the payroll now.

Judge Colver J. Stone has directed police to bring all "ride thumbs" before him. There have been many complaints recently about persons thumbing rides and standing so far out in the streets that they are a menace. Chief George A. Dane has been one of the first law enforcement officials in the area to start a drive against this.

Two Lawrence boys were caught stealing gasoline from the coal yard on Andover st. by officer David Gillespie. They have been held for the grand jury on charges of breaking and entering in the nighttime.

10 Years Ago — July, 1949

The number of persons against whom taxes have been levied has increased by 125 over last year. The new total is 3,405.

The fire department went on its 56-hour week Sunday, replacing the 70-hour week formerly worked. Henry L. Hilton and Albert Cole Jr. assumed their new duties as deputy chiefs the same day. A three-platoon system has been put into effect, to handle the new working schedule.

The temperature has been in the 90's the last three days and the humidity has been very high. Playgrounds were closed Wednesday noon, after Supervisor James Doherty consulted with health and medical authorities. It was one of the few times that the grounds have been closed down by excessive temperatures. Meanwhile, Pomp's Pond is doing a rushing business, with many adults as well as youngsters heading for the water to keep cool.

The Rev. Philip M. Kelsey has resigned the pastorate of the Union Congregational Church in Ballardvale, after two years here. The annual playground outing will be held July 26 at Canobie Lake.

Couldn't Revive Somerville Lad

Despite the efforts of firefighters, a nine-year-old Somerville boy died of accidental drowning Sunday afternoon at Berry's Pond in the Harold Parker State Forest.

Firefighter Roland Joy was reported to have collapsed at the Lawrence General Hospital from his attempts to revive the lad with the new mouth-to-mouth method of resuscitation.

Robert Bolduc, 90 School st., Somerville, was pronounced dead on arrival at the Hospital at 5:30 p.m. Sunday. Dr. John T. Batal, medical examiner, ruled death resulted from accidental drowning.

The boy was discovered in about six feet of water by Martin Cornet, 43 Charles st., Boston, who volunteered to help locate the boy. A skin diver, he had no equipment at the pond, but was able to dive successfully during the search.

State police were notified that the boy was missing by Parker

Gifford, supervisor of the forest. The boy's father said he had last seen the lad about eight to 10 feet from shore.

Trooper Arthur Morrison with a resuscitator and Trooper Paul J. Conway rushed to the scene. Andover Patrolman Henry Giamo responded, as did the emergency crew from the fire department. Within three to five minutes after the firefighters launched a boat, Cornet discovered the body. After the resuscitator failed to give results, Joy attempted the mouth-to-mouth resuscitation method, continuing it on the way to the hospital.

In addition to Joy, firefighters Edward King and Alfred Desrosiers responded, under the direction of Deputy Chief Albert Cole Jr.

The youngster is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bolduc, who had taken their family of seven children to the pond for a picnic. The area is used by the Wakefield YMCA on weekdays.

At The Library

Coming Events:

JULY

25 Library closed Saturdays.
28 Bookworm Storytellers meet, 10:05 a.m.
Story hour for boys and girls, 11:05 a.m.

Summer Hours

Adult room open as usual Monday through Friday, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Children's room open 10 to 12 a.m. and 2-5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Both rooms are closed Saturdays in the summer.

Storyteller Group Meets

This coming Tuesday, July 28, will be the last meeting for the Bookworm Storytellers, who have been coming together each Tuesday morning during July to learn the art of telling a tale to willing listeners. Miss Margaret Lane, Children's Librarian, has been teaching the children ways in which a story is selected, is prepared for telling and is made thrilling and exciting to an audience. Eight boys and girls have been members of this group.

Story Hour

The summer story hour, held each Tuesday morning at 11:05 o'clock in the Children's room, will have as its theme on July 28 "Tales Of Wonder." All young people are invited to attend and share in the good time. Parents are reminded that morning story hours are held from 11:05 to 11:50, if they plan to pick up the children.

It is hoped that the story hour will be a regular feature through the month of August.

Bookworms Building The Library

Anyone who enjoys the enthusiasm which young persons bring to any library activity will be interested in the building project. All young readers who read the required number of books, and who could answer questions on their reading to the satisfaction of the librarian, are permitted to "add a brick" to a large copy of the exterior plan of the extension to the Children's Room, which is to begin in the not too distant future. Bricks are small patches of tape which a child uses to fill the blanks on the drawing. Already one half of the long wall has been "constructed", and the number of builders is still growing. Special graded lists are at hand to give suggestions to the children, although there is freedom of choice.

On September 18, at 3:45 o'clock, there is to be a Bookworm Reading Club Party at the library, to which all the club members are invited. Any child who shares in the building project is a registered member of the club.

Librarians On Vacation

Mrs. Gertrude Hart and Mrs. Shirley Ackerman of the library staff are enjoying their annual vacations.

WANNA BUY A HORSE?

If you buy your groceries in certain super-markets these days, no telling what you will eventually wind up with. Could be you'll end up with a bicycle, a doll, a baseball glove, a fly rod, hair clippers... or even a horse. This is one way to sell groceries.

At the CO-OP, we don't give anything away "for nothing." And we don't include the cost of premiums in the price of our merchandise. We plan to price everything as low as possible. The spread between what you pay and the cost of getting the goods into your hands is a saving which we return to you as a CASH rebate.

Wanna buy a horse? We have no hidden horses. But the CASH we return to our customers every year would buy a herd of horses - if that's what you want.

Want to buy good groceries? We have lots of them - at thrifty prices - with super service - with convenient parking - and rebates in U.S. legal tender - to do with as you wish. We think that's a good way to do business. Don't you?

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a gown of re-embroidered pure silk organza fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves in a fitted bodice. The double tiered skirt swept into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place with a headpiece of silk organza with a scalloped lace edge detailed with seed pearls and she carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid and Stephanotis in rosary effect.

The attendants wore short gowns of embroidered stiff white nylon over layers of baby blue tulle and taffeta accented with blue taffeta bows at the waistline. They wore coronation crowns of fresh roses to match their bouquets. The matron of honor carried a cascade of red roses and the bridesmaids' bouquets were composed of yellow roses.

Guests from Salem, Woburn, Amesbury, Brookline, New Hampshire, Connecticut and Canada attended a reception at Ackerman's ballroom.

After a motor trip to Lake George and Canada the couple will reside at 45 Hawley st., Lawrence.

The bride is a graduate of Johnson High School, North Andover and Merrimack College. She is employed at the Lawrence General Hospital. The bridegroom who served with the U. S. Army for three years, is a graduate of Puncard High School, and is attending Lowell Technological Institute. He is employed by the Essex Meat Packing Co.

May Hold Funds For Dascomb Rd.

A decision on whether to spend Chapter 90 funds on Dascomb rd. this year, or add the money to next year's allocation for the same purpose, will be reached soon.

Town Manager Thomas Duff said he is considering the relative merits of spending $15,475 on the road this year, or adding this amount to next year's appropriation.

If the money is spent this year, he indicated work would be done by town employees. But if it is held over, the entire job probably will be done by contract.

PICTURES TRANSPOSED

The photos of Mrs. William P. Russell, new teacher of the West Parish Church nursery school, and her assistant, Mrs. Clayton Crotch, were switched. We sincerely regret the error.
